The Conservator requests that

(1) the period of Rajamanyar's three years deputation to England be treated as Extraordinary leave without allowances under arts. 165 A of the Mysore Service Regns.

(2) the above period be reckoned towards pension under article 242 † Ibid

(3) that recovery of premium towards the State Insurance be deferred in a special case till B. V. Rajamanyar's return to Mysore.

Subd for orders. Please ascertain how the cases of other Officers deputed to England to study e.g. (Dr.) Palpu & Ramayya Mr. Bhore (Asst. Engineer) have been treated

The file relating to Dr. Palpu is put up. Other files are not readily available. The papers in Dr. Palpu's file, however, give the required information regarding others also. The information is noted below:—

Dr. Palpu - Was on deputation with a deputation allowance of Rs 300/ a month. So he was considered as on duty.

Miss Govindarajalu - Was on extraordinary leave without allowances during the period of her stay in England. Was given 2nd class passage and consulted. The Govt wants Art 462 to be applied to the case. It is a special provision & it is doubtful whether Central Inst. School is meant any other school besides Dehra Dun not situated in India. Following the precedents the period of absence will have to be treated as leave without allowance, which cannot count as service for pension. Dr. Salpeter's case is a peculiar one. He was deputed not to undergo any general training & obtaining any higher University ~~qualification~~ diploma other than that which could ~~have been~~ be obtained in the course of the special study connected with his work he was directed to undergo.

It seems to me that there is not a case of defalcation, and that (if there is no objection) the proper treatment of it is to regard the Ramazanger as on extraordinary case without allowances. C.

SIR,

I have the honour to request the favour of your obtaining orders of Government, as to how the period of de - putation of Ranger T.V.Rama Iyengar to the Oxford University for studying Forestry, is to be treated. He was on duty until the evening of the 13th September 1905, when he left for Bombay. As his scholarship in connection with the deputation has been sanctioned with effect from the 10th October, the inter - mediate period, i.e., from the 14th September to 9th October, both days inclusive, has been treated as privilege leave to which he was eligible. The University course will last for three years; and I would suggest that this period may be treat -ed as extraordinary leave without allowances and combined with the privilege leave above referred to, under Article 165 A of the Service Regulations. Special sanction of Government may be kindly accorded to allow the period of Ramaiengar's training in Oxford University to be counted as service towards pension, under the spirit of the provisions of Article 242 of
